Crocker Park: Tree Lighting Kindles Holiday Traditions

People rave about the holiday décor that adorns Crocker Park. Last weekend, guests once again marveled at the annual lighting of the 50-foot Holiday Tree, the amazing reindeer topiary, and the thousands upon thousands of lights that decorate each and every tree at the lifestyle center.

Did you know that Crocker Park invested $1 million in the acquisition of these delightful displays?

More valuable, however, is the intent of the Crocker Park development team to bring a priceless addition to the cultural composition of the West Shore community.

Crocker Park's mission has been to truly become an answer to our region's needs for renewed holiday traditions. Today's parents and grandparents treasure special memories of trips to downtown Cleveland to visit the giant Christmas tree at Sterling-Linder, to chat with Mr. Jingling at Higbee's, or visit Santa at The Halle Bros. Crocker Park, as a leader in regional reurbanization, has worked hard to fill the void of Cleveland's treasured past. Creating priceless images for our artfully emergent downtown West Shore is the goal.

In six years since its grand opening, visitors to Crocker Park at holiday time ask the same question: "How many lights are there on the trees at Crocker Park?"

The answer will astound you! There are around 500,000 individual lights on the trees at Crocker Park!

"Each tree takes six hours to decorate," said Crocker Park

Crocker Park: Tree Lighting Kindles Holiday Traditions

General Manager Darryl Whitehead. "It takes so long, that we have to start getting ready for the holidays at the end of October."

The Becker Group of Baltimore created the giant Holiday Tree in the Crocker Park Circle. The tree and all its trimmings – from the wreaths to the roping to the ornaments – were custom designed and created just for Crocker Park.

Crocker Park teamed with The Becker Groups because of its shared mission of community excellence.

World-famous for its specialty designs, The Becker Group's heart for people perfectly fits the Crocker Park mission for quality lifestyle and community partnership.

The Becker Group is an experiential marketing company headquartered in Baltimore with over fifty years of history creating attractions for a wide variety of clients and venues. These clients include movie studios, shopping malls, television networks, theme parks and museums around the globe.

So, this year when you visit Crocker Park for a shopping trip, a holiday meal or The Tree Lighting Ceremony where Westlake Mayor Dennis Clough and television personality Kenny Crumpton personally greeted visitors and welcomed Santa to the stage, be assured that you are participating in an element of Americana that is treasured just as deeply by those who have created and presented the displays.

The 9th Annual Gift of Life Gala... Celebrating the Littlest Among Us!

All babies enter a world of the unknown. Some need a little miracle to survive. The 9th annual Gift of Life Gala supporting Fairview Hospital's Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) made sure those miracles will continue!

The gala dinner and fundraiser was once again a great success in celebrating the littlest among us at LaCentre in Westlake on Sat., Nov. 14.

Dr. Jeffery Pietz, Director of Fairview's NICU, was more than a little teary-eyed as he thanked the 250 guests who generously raised support for families and babies in need at a very vulnerable time in life for all.

"Those of you who know me know that I choke up every year at this event," he said. "And while it may be unprofessional for me to say this, I want to thank all who work at the Fairview NICU. It is the best there is!"

Fred DeGrandis, CEO Cleveland Clinic Regional Hospitals, shared the gratitude. "They say the measure of a society is how it treats the very young and the very old. With this event, the measure of this community is so obvious by the outstanding generosity you show to the youngest."

Every year, many miracles emerge from the Fairview NICU. Impossibly small and premature babies are given a chance at life, many newborns with tremendous medical challenges are nursed through critical times, and the families who survive are forever grateful.

"That is why it means so much to me to stand here and thank you for what you are doing," said Dr. Pietz.

Debbie Norton and Susen Chadwick, Chairs, welcomed guests with a hearty thank-you and recognition of the doctors, nurses and staff of the NICU who enjoyed the gala evening.

A moving musical testimonial and slideshow was presented by Tony DiBenedetto, and entertainment personality Joe Cronauer hosted a lively auction of generous gifts.

The many nurses and staff of the NICU even gave bidders a rousing standing ovation at one point during Joe's entertaining auction of exciting donated gifts like great jewelry, trips, sports tickets and more.

"Believing in a cause that is bigger than yourself, that is really what it is all about," commented Joe. He was assisted in the auction by former Cleveland Browns player Dan Fike, donated a week-long stay in Florida that even included air fare!

"This would not happen if not for you," said Fred DeGrandis, CEO Cleveland Clinic Regional Hospitals, to guests as the auction began. Your generosity makes this possible." Yes, there were many emotional moments as the littlest patients of the NICU family were celebrated for the 9th year in a row. Proud parents, friends, family and medical staffers cheered, cried and celebrated together the victory of life and love the NICU success stories represent. "These are the true heroes," said one guest observing a table of NICU nurses as they enjoyed the evening. Hosted by Community West Foundation and Fairview Hospital, the Gift of Life Gala is a loving tribute to the power of community and the spirit of life alive in the West Shore. Much gratitude is extended to the auction donors, and special thanks to the Pediatric Medical Group, Fairview Hospital, and Fairview Hospital's OB/GYN Physicians, Crystal Star Sponsors of the event, as well as all the sponsors who make this notable event possible!

Brad and Debbie Norton and Susen and Dr. Neal Chadwick. Debbie and Susen were this year's Gift of Life Gala chairpersons.
